C O L I N O F F O R D

in concert

Sunday 26 August 2012

Composer, singer and musical inventor Colin Offord has performed his uniquely Australasian music at festivals, art centres, concert halls and environmental settings throughout Australia and the world. Colin's musical travels have taken him across Europe and North America, throughout the island nations of the South Pacific, South and East Asia, Reunion Island and South Africa. Now is your chance to hear his take on 21st century music in the historic setting of the Grainger Museum. In addition to hearing Colin perform you will have the opportunity of viewing a display of his innovative instruments in the Museum. For more information about Colin Offord go to www.colinofford.com & www.youtube.com

The Grainger Museum opens 1pm, concert at 3.30pm near Gate 13, Royal Parade, University of Melbourne Adults $15; concession $10. Payment on the day at the door. Please book ahead as numbers are limited. For bookings contact Yana Poulos: email yana.poulos@unimelb.edu.au telephone 8344 3964.

"Offord is like a modern troubadour with his artistic crossover of Celtic, Aboriginal, Medieval and Asian music. His performances are enchanting, effortless and always an exciting event."
Antoine Legat, Cultuur Magazine, Belgium.
